8 Water Usage vs. Budget

9 Wait to irrigate!

As we move into spring, it's important to check your sprinkler system and adjust it for springtime watering schedules. Unless it's particularly dry, you can hold off watering your lawn until later in April or May. Typically for May, you only need to water 1" per week.

- 1. Mailer Information shows where the bill was sent.
- 2. Account Information
- 3. If Paying by Check indicates how to address and where to send checks for payment.

4. Water Charges are billed per 1,000 gallons of water used based on a tiered structure. The monthly service charge includes the first 1,000 gallons used each month. The additional tiered charges are based on your monthly water budget.

The ranges in gallons shown for each tier are based on the current billing period's water budget. Visit our website for more details.

5. Wastewater Charges are based on a three-month winter water average (January to March) that is recalculated in April each year. In addition to the average, there is a flat monthly service charge.

6. Other Charges Occasionally, you may see other charges on your bill like reconnect fees or billing adjustments.

7. Account Balance and Charges Find your previous balance, recent payments, outstanding/past due balance, current charges and total payment due here.

8. Water Usage vs. Budget shows the monthly water budget and how your water use compares.

9. Customer Communications Check this section for important information and reminders from MMD.

10. Meter Readings and History This section of the bill shows your current and previous meter readings and how your water use compares to the same time period from the previous year.
